DIED.

In this city, on the 7th instant, SARAH EMILY CATHERINE, daughter of W. N. and M. E. A. Mackey, in the 12th year of her age. Funeral services at 3 P. M. to-day.

LATE NEWS.—We are indebted to Mr. WAGNER for a Louisville Journal of the 5th instant.

General McCook and staff, and a portion of his troops, arrived in the city yesterday morning.

Still They Come!

We are informed that the gallant Gen. Sigel and the brave soldiers of his Division camped in Edgely yesterday. A thousand joyous welcomes to the patriotic warriors.

The types made us say yesterday that General Rosecrans had whipped the rebels when they outnumbered him ten to one. We wrote two to one. However we do believe that if there is a General alive who can whip an enemy ten to one, that the Hero of Luka is the man.

We have a huge mass of poetical manuscripts on hand—enough to fill a good-sized New Year's Annual. Mars is not very propitious to the Muses during the din of battle, so our poets must be patient.

Mails.

We confidently expect the arrival of a mail here this evening. If anything is calculated to whet one's appetite for letters and newspapers, it is the task of editing a daily newspaper for over two months with one exchange a week on an average. We really feel happy, blissful, ecstatic at the prospect of greeting the friendly and genial faces of our rousing exchange list.

LOST.

On or about the 19th of October, 1862, somewhere on Church or Spruce streets a Communication, enclosed in a large envelope and addressed to Major W. H. SHELLEY. If the person who found this letter and forwarded it to Major SHELLEY, will call at the Union office, he will be liberally rewarded. It is of the utmost importance to an officer to know that the papers were forwarded to Major SHELLEY, Nov. 8th.—1t

Union Troops Occupy Upperville, Va.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 3.—The Washington Star says last night the advance of the Army of the Potomac, under Burnside, Fitz John Porter, and others, doubtless bivouacked upon the line of the Alexandria and Winchester turnpike; from Upperville three miles in front, or below Ashby's Gap down to Middleburg, a distance of ten miles.

Their cavalry must have halted for the night very near if not on the line of the Manassas Gap Railroad, somewhere between Front Royal and Thoroughfare Gap.

The force of Sigel, which took up the line of march early yesterday, must have advanced upon the line of the same Railroad to Thoroughfare Gap ere night-fall if not beyond that point; while another division of the army in front of Washington, under Sickles, at the same time was doubtless advancing in the rear of Sigel, and at night within supporting distance of him. Such, we judge from our knowledge of the country roads, &c., to have necessarily been the movements east of the Blue Ridge yesterday.

The march of Sickles' division yesterday before Alexandria almost to the extreme front reflects great credit on it. Up to 2:30 P. M. to-day we have not been able to learn that the enemy had appeared in front of Sigel's command in any force. We would have learned the facts, had the enemy ventured an attack on our forces in that quarter this morning.

We think it now clear that Lee's flank has been turned.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—It is said to-night in military circles that Col. Garibaldi, Asst. General of the army, upon duty in the War Department, will soon leave here for duty in the field as chief of staff of Major General Rosecrans, and that he will be succeeded by Col. Jas. B. Fry, at present chief of staff to Gen. Buell.

The entire army has been paid to the 30th of June, and a portion up to the 31st of August. The reason for non-payment of the remainder is owing to the Treasury Department being unable to honor the requisition of the pay department, the bounty and advance pay to the new levies having been first paid, and this transaction requiring all the available funds.

Governor Curtin is here to confer with the President upon important military affairs connected with Pennsylvania.

Rear Admiral Dupont, in communicating to the Navy Department the circumstances attending the capture of the British steamers Scotia, Angela, and Owachita, and the destruction of the Minho, says the crew of the Scotia were in a state of intoxication, so that they became almost unmanageable, and acting volunteer Lieut. Conner ordered them to be transferred on board the Beestee and put in irons.

The Angela, when captured, was almost out of coal, and was sent by Capt. Gordon, senior officer off Charleston, to Port Royal, to be supplied.

This is the same vessel which attempted to enter Charleston in September, and, being headed off, succeeded in making her escape through the darkness.

Boston, Nov. 3.—It is reported here that Major-General Banks will have eight regiments of Massachusetts infantry, three batteries of artillery, and a regiment of cavalry as part of his proposed Texas expedition. The 41st regiment, Col. Chickering, expects to leave for New York on Friday.

St. Louis, Nov. 3.—We have additional details of the recent rout of Burbridge's guerrillas at Bollinger's Mills, in southeastern Missouri.

The forces of Dewey and Lazear formed a junction beyond Pittman's Ferry. Dewey had a running fight for fifteen miles with guerrillas of Burbridge and Col. Green. Our loss was trivial. Several of the enemy's officers were taken prisoners.

Lazear chased a detachment of Boone's men from Van Buren to Ballinger's Mills, five miles this side of Pochontas. The killed, wounded and captured of the enemy amount to 230. Our loss is 1 killed and 4 wounded.

Prisoners say they had orders from Hindman to make a forced march to Springfield, and fall on the rear of the army under Schofield, and take Springfield and cut off our supplies.

A despatch from Col. Boyd has been received by Gen. Davidson, stating that Lazear had returned to Patterson. He went to Pocahontas, drove the enemy across the river, followed him several miles, and made many important captures.

He had only three men wounded and one taken prisoner. The enemy lost 20 killed, 40 horses, and 80 stand of arms. Dewey also arrived with a number of prisoners, having lost two, wounded, and inflicted heavy loss upon the rebels. Important letters have been captured. It is ascertained that Jackson is at Little Rock.

New York, November 4.—The New Orleans Delta of the 27th contains the items following:

The Spanish steamship Cuba arrived this morning from Havana, which port she left on the 21st inst.

Seventy-three Union refugees, a fine ragged set of men, clad in the garb of Texas Rangers, arrived in the city this morning from Matamoros.

They come to join the Union army to return to Texas and fight for their homes and property, from which they have been driven by the secessionists.

The French admiral Reynaud with the frigate Guerriere and the gunboat Renardina arrived at New Orleans on the 12th from New York.

The French gunboat Catinet, and the English gunboat Rinaldo are anchored off New Orleans.

The residence of D. W. Forschner, on Magazine street, had been robbed of an iron safe, containing important papers, silverware, jewelry, money, &c., to the value of $100,000.

New York, Nov. 4.—A Harper's Ferry despatch of the 3d instant, says, no enemy opposed our advance until it reached Snickerville, where they retreated to the western side of our column reached the crest of the hill a body of rebel cavalry, a battery, and two brigades of infantry emerged from the woods in the direction of Winchester.

A Parrott battery sent an effective shell amongst them, when they retreated to the woods, not again emerging.

A body of them has remained on the banks of the Shenandoah, afraid to retreat in the face of the battery. Our forces are in full possession of the Gap.

The rebels intended to dispute the possession of the Gap, but were about an hour behind time.

Snickervillians state that Stuart, with 3,000 rebel cavalry, passed through the Gap on Thursday.

The impression is general that a great battle will be fought to-morrow.

New York, Nov. 4.—A headquarters despatch to the Herald, dated Wheatland, Nov. 2d, P. M., contains the following: General McClellan reconnoitered the enemy from the front this afternoon.

Gen. Pleasanton's cavalry supported by a brigade of Doubleday's division, drove the rebels from their positions, contesting the ground with considerable spirit.

The rebels east of the Blue Ridge designed retreating through the Gap, near Upperville.

Jackson and Longstreet are just beyond Snickerville's Gap with a large force. Cannonading is now going on. Our troops are in excellent condition, and eager for battle. A general engagement is expected to-morrow.

New York, Nov. 4.—The steamer Cahawba from New Orleans the 28th, arrived to-day with 240 sick soldiers. The following died on the passage: A. J. Chaterton, Jas. Campbell, Julius B. Lathrop, and W. G. Corder, of the 6th Michigan.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, BLOOMFIELD, VA., Nov. 3, 7 P. M.

The advance of the Army of the Potomac up the valley, on the left side of the Blue Ridge, is being pushed forward with all despatch.

General Pleasanton occupied Upperville this afternoon, after a spirited engagement with the enemy of about four hours. We had none killed, but several wounded.

The rebels left three of their killed on the field.

Upperville is four miles from Ashby's Gap, which the rebels are endeavoring to hold.

Our troops now hold all the Gaps up to Ashby's, with every prospect of having that to-morrow.

There was some force of the enemy to-day in front of Snickerville's Gap, on the left bank of the Shenandoah, to dispute our passage at that point.

The rumors of the invasion of Maryland, by way of Downsville, are not believed. The last reports from the rear show these reports to be unfounded.

The army is ready and prepared to fight a general battle when the rebels may see proper to meet them.

The army is in better condition than it has ever been, with the exception of the want of more cavalry, a want that is greatly felt.
